CLARETS! CLARETS!!

TREACHER & Co., Ld., desire to call special attention to their Clarets, of which they are the largest Importers in India. The Wines are imported direct from Bordeaux, and the Company, by reason of the immense demand for their Clarets, are able to place unusually large Orders with original producers. This consideration, and the position they hold as cash buyers, gives them a certain preference in the Wine Market, which their long experience enables them to turn to the utmost advantage, and they are consequently able to offer to their clients Clarets of a very superior order at unusually low prices:—

	CASH. Rs. a.	Rs. a.	CREDIT. Rs. a.	Rs. a.

BORDEAUX.—A favourite Wine from the district of Bordeaux	12 0	6 14	13 12	7 12
It may be mentioned as an evidence of the popularity of our Clarets that our sale of these two brands amounts to nearly 4,000 doz. per annum, which fact alone would be sufficient proof of their merit.

PIANO REPAIRS.

HAVING made the repairing of Musical Instruments—Pianos in particular—a special study, we are in a position to assure the Public that Pianos condemned by others can be made by us good and serviceable instruments at moderate cost.

Our Mr. SCHNEIDER having had a thorough practical training in all branches of the Pianoforte Manufactory, and also an extensive Indian experience, can guarantee the work executed under his immediate supervision to be of the best possible order.

Before having your Piano repaired by inexperienced hands, consult the Practical Pianofortemakers, A. C. SCHNEIDER & Co.

In consideration of the kind Patronage received from the Public of Bombay, we will undertake Tunings at the following LOW RATES:—

Tunings in Fort, Byculla, Girgaum, Lower Colaba and Prince's Dock ..... Rs. 5
Tunings in Malabar Hill, Mazagon, and Upper Colaba..... Rs. 6

Small repairs not charged for. We further beg to make known that we are able to undertake penny repairs at a rate of 15 per cent. less than the lowest estimates quoted by others.
New Blocks, Actions, iron frames renewed, Pianos reconstructed and improved upon.

The following is one of the numerous Testimonials received by us:—

"I received the Piano, and it gives me great pleasure to say that it has turned out beyond my expectations. By fitting the new Action Keyboard and Wires, the instrument is now practically as good as a new one. I was not aware that work of this description could be done in India, and I can highly recommend your workmanship to the Public of Bombay, who, I hope, will not fail to employ your firm's services when real good work is required. You are at liberty to make use of this if you think it will be of benefit to you.

"(Signed) J. SCHMUCK, Professor of Music, &c."

A DISHONEST BROTHER.—Wasudev Chintaman, a horse and carriage-broker, residing at Girgaum, has made a report to the police that his younger brother, named Yeshwant Chintaman, aged twelve years, stole property, valued at Rs. 350, from his house, on the 28th ultimo, and afterwards went to Indore, in company with another young man, named Vishnu Moreshwar Pawaskar. Yeshwant was brought back to Bombay, and was under police custody, assisting them to trace the whereabouts of his accomplice Vishnu, who had disposed of the stolen property.

A MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.—Yesterday, at the Girgaum Police Court, before Mr. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, Inspector Holdway charged Shiva Balu, a mill-hand, with the theft of a copper-pot, valued at Rs. 1, belonging to another mill-hand, Vishnu Ragu, residing in the same chawl, at Parel Road. On Wednesday night the complainant made a report to a police officer that while returning home, he found the accused running away with his copper-pot. He pushed the accused back into his room, and locked him up there. On going to the complainant's room, the police found the accused locked up as stated, and the copper-pot lying outside of the door of the room. The accused was taken into custody, but released on bail that night. The true story was that the complainant had a quarrel with a woman who was his mistress, some two months back. The woman left his house, taking with her some copper-pots and gold ornaments as her share. Since the separation, she was living with the accused Shiva Balu. The copper-pot alleged to have been stolen belonged to her. The Magistrate, in dismissing the case, remarked that it was a malicious prosecution, fined the complainant Rs. 50, and ordered the amount to be paid to Shiva Balu, as compensation.

THERE is, it seems, a spot in Europe where, in a five hours' walk, one may tread the soil of two kingdoms, two duchies, and three principalities. Starting from Steinbach in Bavaria, half-an-hour brings the pedestrian to the Duchy of Saxe-Meiningen. Another walk of an hour and a-half leads to Reuss-Obergreese (principality of Reuss, elder branch); from this place, ten minutes suffice to reach Gleima (Schwartzburg-Rudolstadt); half-an-hour more, and we are at Altengeseta (principality of Reuss, younger branch), whence an hour and a-half takes us to Drognitz (Prussia), and a shorter walk to Saalthal (Saxe-Altenburg.) At Constantinople the Galata merchants transact business in Europe, and dine and sleep in Asia, at Kadikeny, the ancient Chalcedon, which sounds odd, but while crossing a geographical frontier they remain in the same country.

FLORILINE—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline," being composed in part of honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d., of all Chemists and Perfumers. SMALL CAUSES COURT.

(Before Mr. C. W. CHITTY, Chief Judge.)

IMPORTANT JUDGMENT IN A MUNICIPAL APPEAL.

SIRDAR DILAR JUNG vs. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER.

THE Hon'ble Mr. Lang, Barrister-at-law, instructed by Mr. Browne, appeared for the appellant; and Mr. Scott, Barrister-at-law, instructed by Messrs. Crawford, Burder, Buckland and Bayley, Solicitors, represented the Municipality.

His Honour, in delivering judgment, said:—This is a petition for the ascertainment of the amount to be paid by the Bombay Municipality to the petitioner in respect of a certain portion of his land abutting on Bruce Lane in the Fort, which has been taken up by the Municipality as a set-back for the purpose of widening Bruce Lane. The petitioner is the owner of the four-sided plot of land bounded by Apollo Street, Hummum Street, Church Lane and Bruce Lane, and known as the "Old Secretariat." The land now taken up forms a narrow strip of that plot running the whole length of Bruce Lane, and admittedly containing 276·25 square yards. The only question for my determination is what is the amount, if any, to be paid to the petitioner as compensation. The first notice by the petitioner of his intention to build was given on 10th October 1887, and the provisions of the Bombay Municipal Acts 1872 and 1878 are therefore applicable to this case. On receipt of the petitioner's first notice the respondent on the 20th October 1887 called for plans of the proposed building under section 165. These were submitted on 12th April 1888 with a notice from which it appeared that the petitioner intended (inter alia) to rebuild the house on the property situate at the junction of Apollo Street and Bruce Lane. The respondent then gave notice of set-back in this case, dated the 23rd May 1888 (Exhibit H), which was confirmed by a resolution of the Town Council, and such resolution communicated to the petitioner on 7th June 1888 (Exhibit I). It will be convenient at this point to dispose of an objection taken by the respondent's counsel at the commencement of his case, and after the case for the petitioner was closed that the petitioner has no right to statutory compensation at all. This objection was based on the ground that the old buildings (which it is admitted ran the whole length of Bruce Lane) were still standing at the date of the notices to rebuild and set-back, and that, therefore, the case fell under section 163 and not section 169 of the Act. I have no positive evidence before me as to when the old buildings were removed, but even if they were standing at the date of the notices of April and May 1888, I do not think it would alter the case. Here the Municipality purported to act under section 163. Their notice of 23rd May 1888 is given "pursuant to the provisions of sections 163-166," which I think can only mean pursuant to the provisions of sections 163 to 166 inclusive. The consent of the Town Council to the set-back was also obtained as required by section 163 but not by section 166, and finally the portion of land so taken has apparently been regarded as part of the widened street and as vested in the Corporation. It is true that the past tense is used in section 163, but I think, nevertheless, that it must be taken to apply to all cases of rebuilding whether the house has actually been taken down at the date of notice of set-back or not. It is necessary for a person intending to rebuild to first give notice to the Commissioner under section 165, and if the respondent's contention were correct, the Commissioner might in every case by at once giving notice of set-back prevent the petitioner from the land required without giving any compensation. But I think that section 166 cannot apply here, as it gives no power to the Commissioner to take land compulsorily. The case relied on by the respondent (Ardesir Beman vs. The Municipal Corporation of Bombay, suit 125 of 1877, decided by Green J. on the 10th July 1879) was a very different case from the present. There the land was and always had been vacant and the Municipality had clearly no right to take such land compulsorily but only by special agreement with the owner. In that case Green J. held that there had been such an agreement and decided in the plaintiff's favour accordingly. I therefore find that this case is governed by section 163 and proceed to determine the amount of compensation to be awarded. The first question to be considered is as to what mode should be adopted in ascertaining the value of this land. In the three cases decided by Arnan J. in Munji Khetsi's case (I. L. R. 15, B. 279) the respondent contended that the 1st and 3rd ought to be employed in preference to the second. With regard to the 1st mode the value of the land in front of the plaintiff's plot, the sale of the whole "Old Secretariat" by Government to the petitioner. For this plot containing 12,416 square yards he gave Rs. 4,35,400. As to the value of the buildings on the plot at the date of purchase I think that no very certain evidence before me, taking them at the lowest estimate (Rs. 25,000), the price of the land would be about Rs. 30 a square-yard. I do not think, however, that that sale forms a very reliable basis for determining the value of a small strip of the land. The sale was by private agreement with Government a proceeding which was condemned by the Bombay Extension Committee and can hardly be taken as a guide to the then "market value" of the land as a whole. Much less can it be taken as a guide to the present value of a small strip of frontage land detached from the main plot. I now proceed to deal with the three instances of sales of land in the vicinity of which evidence was given for the petitioner, viz., the sale of the piece of land and buildings marked red on the plan (Exhibit III.) and known as the Opium godown. This was sold to Khimjee Jeewa and others in July 1886 for Rs. 1,25,000 and contained 9,013 square yards. I have no reliable evidence, however, of the value of the buildings. One witness was called and produced Khimji Jeewa's books from which he said Rs. 80,000 had been spent on the buildings. This may have been a fair or even low the expenditure. Besides this the land appears to be held from Government under a writing, dated 31st May 1798, on condition of payment annually to Government of Rs. 57 10s. as the usual quit rent, and ground rent and not to be the absolute property of the purchasers. Then, again, though not far distant from the land in question, the situations are not precisely similar. It would, I think, be almost impossible to say what allowances should be made in respect of these various matters. The second sale mentioned was that of certain land coloured blue on the plan. That land is in many respects very similarly situated, but it is very difficult from the data available from the evidence before me to ascertain its present market value. That land measuring 2,414 square yards was sold in 1885 to Nanabhoy Burjorjee for Rs. 1,75,000. But it was the subject of a suit in the High Court between Nanabhoy and his brother, and was sold under an order of the Court, and Nanabhoy purchased it as above mentioned. There is no evidence before me as to what was the value of the buildings on the land in 1885, but they have been cubed out and valued by the Municipality. At the same time Nanabhoy now wants for the land one lakh more than he gave for it, though he has had no certain offer for it at that rate. I should also mention that a portion of the buildings are leased to the B. I. S. N. Company under a lease containing restrictive covenants against building on other portions of the land. Here again I am unable to say what is the present market value of that land, and think that it forms no reliable criterion for determining the value of the land in question. The third sale relied on by the respondent is, I think, a more valuable guide. I allude to the sale of the Sassoon property marked green on the plan. These 650 square-yards of vacant land fronting the narrow portion of Apollo Street, were sold last year to Haji Allarakhia Nakhoo for Rs. 30,000, a rate of about Rs. 46 a square-yard. The purchaser admitted, however, that he had bought it cheap, and the situation is somewhat less favourable than that of the land in question, especially at the Apollo Street end. This, too, was a sale of a large square plot. I have come to the conclusion that it would be unsafe to rely entirely on this one sale at any rate in determining the values of the portions of the set-back situate at the end of the Sirdar's Palace and the Kadir Makan, though it may possibly be considered in estimating the compensation for the intermediate portion. With regard to the portions of the set-back situate at the ends of the Sirdar's Palace and Kadir Makan I am of opinion that the second of the three modes above mentioned should be applied, as here we have the actual rentals of those buildings to go by. I cannot, however, accept the suggestion of the petitioner's engineers that a space of 20ft. back from each building should be allowed for at the same rate. Mr. Gostling said that such space of 20ft. had been so included as it was necessary for the proper enjoyment of the buildings, but it was admitted that as a matter of fact the 20 feet in each case represented half the width of proposed roads which were to be constructed at right angles to Bruce Lane. Under these circumstances it would not, I think, be fair to value any portion of those 20 feet spaces on the basis of the rentals of the buildings, and I shall, therefore, regard set-back No. 1 as that portion only of the set-back lying at the end of the Sirdar's Palace, and set-back No. 2 as that portion lying at the end of the Kadir Makan. The 20ft. spaces will be included in the intermediate set-back No. 3. In proceeding to calculate the values of set-back Nos. 2 and 3, I may say that I adopt throughout the figures as given by Mr. Gostling with one important modification and that is that I allow twenty years' purchase only on the net rental instead of 25 years as taken by the petitioner's engineers. It is true that in several cases lately decided the engineers in giving evidence have alleged that 25 is the usual number of years' purchase to be taken in Bombay, but I do not find that such a large number has on any occasion been accepted by the Court. The only other figures as to which there was any question was the valuation which Mr. Gostling put upon the buildings; but from the evidence given of the actual expenditure on the Sirdar's Palace and Kadar Makan I am inclined to think that Mr. Gostling's allowance for those buildings was a very fair one. With regard to set-back No. 3, the intermediate portion, is, as Mr. Lang, in opening his case, remarked, "more a matter of opinion." Indeed, it seems to me to be entirely a matter of opinion. The data, if any, for the estimate of the petitioner's engineers, was to be found in the conclusion they arrived at in their first report with regard to set back Nos. 1 and 2. Those conclusions have since been changed for others formed on fresh data, so that no data remains for the estimate of Rs. 70. I have therefore to form my own opinion and on taking into consideration all the circumstances of the case, the sale of the Sassoon property at Rs. 46, the offer by the petitioner to let the Municipality have this land at Rs. 50, and the values I have allotted to the other sets-back, I think I shall not be far wrong in awarding Rs. 50 a square-yard at the value. The area of set-back No. 3 as taken by me is 183·93 square-yards, and the value will therefore be Rs. 9,196·50. The total value of the 3 set-back will be Rs. 25,483·12 which with the value of the compound wall admitted by the respondent at Rs. 181-12-3, will give a sum of Rs. 25,665-3-3. I may say that it appears to me to be impossible to fix the value of this land with anything like mathematical accuracy. I am aware, also, that the mode of valuation adopted by the petitioner's engineers is open to objection, and, as Mr. Smith said, it may work out to very absurd results. At the same time it is a recognised mode of valuing property. It is employed in England and in Bombay. The Municipality themselves constantly adopted it, and where no absurdity results, there seems to be no reason why it should not form the basis for determining the value of land especially in cases in which, like the present, there are no other satisfactory materials for forming a decision. With regard to the petitioner's claim for Rs. 1,157-13-10 the value of 5 yards and 6 square in. lost to the petitioner, I am of opinion that this must be disallowed. There was no reason given why the petitioner's building should not be built at an acute angle to Apollo Street, except that it would not look well. It is noticeable that none of the three engineers called on the petitioner's behalf were examined on this point, and it was not denied that numbers of houses are built not at right angles to the streets. I think that if the petitioner chooses not to utilise all his land, that can be no reason why the respondent should be compelled to pay him for it. The land is in no way "lost" to the petitioner as he alleges. As to the claim of 15 per cent. for compulsory purchase it has been decided by the High Court (I. L. R. 15, B. 267) that no such claim can be maintained, and I must therefore disallow that item. I accordingly award to the petitioner a sum of Rs. 25,665-3-3 and interest on that amount from the 8th February 1892 (on which day the Municipality took possession of the land) until payment, with his costs of this petition and processes, if any, and I certify the petitioner's professional costs at Rs. 165.

BOMBAY PORT TRUST.

THE following are excerpts from minutes of the Trustees' Meeting of the 12th instant:—

Read letter from the Acting Engineer, dated 30th June, forwarding with reference to Trustees' Resolution, No. 432, dated 9th October, a statement of all the heavy work done to rudders and propellers of vessels that came into the Merewether Dry Dock from the date of opening, 3rd March 1891 to 30th June 1892, and stating that in no instance was there any necessity for a heavy crane, and no difficulty was experienced that could not be dealt with by ordinary means. He says that the experience raised so far does not indicate any necessity for providing a special crane for lifting propellers.

Resolution to be recorded.

Read letter from the Government of India, No. 199, dated 28th July, 1891, to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, intimating that they have no objection to the introduction of the proposed uniform international buoyage system in India; but they must not now be committed to universal and immediate adoption, and must be at liberty to introduce the system by degrees. Read Government Resolution, Marine Department, No. 71, dated 22nd March 1892, communicating a letter from the Government of India, No. 666, dated 29th February 1892, requesting the Bombay Government to take steps for the adoption of the new buoyage system. Read memo. from the Officiating Port Officer, dated 6th July, reporting that the recommendations of the Buoyage Committee are being gradually carried out in this port.

Resolution.—Government should be informed accordingly.

Read letter from Messrs. Visram Ebram and Co., Agents of the Mala Real Portugueza, dated 29th June, forwarding correspondence with the Traffic Manager regarding the levy of three extra fees amounting to Rs. 82-1-3 on 138 packages of merchandise transhipped from the s. s. Nyanza from Zanzibar to the s. s. Brahmani bound for Mormagao. Read memo. from the Traffic Manager, dated 1st July. Read memo. by the Secretary, dated 11th June, pointing out that in the docks the consignment in question would have been dealt with as unclaimed goods, and the charges according to the dock rate book would have come to about Rs. 30 against the lower charges of Rs 82-1-3.

Resolution.—Following the precedent in Trustees' Resolution, No. 384, of 1st September 1891, the goods might, as a special case with the sanction of Government, be treated as unclaimed goods at the docks are treated.

The following were amongst the papers laid on the table:—

BANK OF BOMBAY.

THE forty-ninth Report of the Bank of Bombay is as follows:—

The Directors submit to the shareholders a statement of the Liabilities and Assets and of the Profit and Loss Account of the Bank, as at the close of the half-year on 30th June last.

They have pleasure in reporting that the transactions of the half-year have resulted in a net profit of ..... Rs. 8,33,602 2 1 to which has to be added the balance carried forward from the previous half-year, .. 70,710 6 10 making together ..... Rs. 9,04,312 8 11
and which they have decided to apply as under:—

To a dividend at the rate of 10 percent. per annum free from Income-tax ... Rs. 5,00,000 0 0
" Reserve Fund ..... " 2,00,000 0 0
" Officers' Pension Fund... " 35,000 0 0
" Carried forward ..... " 1,69,312 8 11
Rs. 9,04,312 8 11

During the half-year trade was exceptionally dull; cotton proved a very short crop and the price of the staple, owing to an unprecedentedly bountiful crop in the American States, fell to the lowest level on record; the sterling value of the rupee, like cotton, fell to a point never before reached; and the fluctuations in sterling exchange were frequent and disturbing. These adverse circumstances seriously impeded and curtailed business, and by causing a large diminution in the value of our exports, restricted the demand for money and prevented rates of interest and discount rising to their normal level. The Bank was unable, therefore, to engage its resources in trading channels either so remuneratively or so fully as in former export seasons, and had to supplement profits by continuing its investments in Government and other public Securities.

Trading under such conditions involved more than usual risk, and caused many failures, as well as much distrust. The Directors are pleased to report, however, that the Bank has not incurred any loss.

A branch of the Bank was opened at Bhavnagar, where the management of the State Treasury has been transferred to the Bank. The sanction of the Government of India was obtained thereto, as required under the Presidency Banks' Act 1876.

The Directors have appropriated Rs. 2,00,000 to the Reserve Fund, thus raising it to Rs. 36,50,000.

The Hon'ble Mr. L. R. W. Forrest resigned his seat at the Board prior to his departure for Europe, and in his place the Directors appointed Mr. R. B. Sedgwick.

Mr. Ahmedbhoy Hubibbhoy and Mr S. D. Sassoon are the Directors who retire by rotation, and both are eligible for re-election.

The shareholders are required to elect Auditors for the coming year and to fix their remuneration. The present Auditors are eligible and offer themselves for re-election.

By order of the Board of Directors,
JAS. H. SLEIGH,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Bombay, 14th July, 1892.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE BANK OF BOMBAY.

We have completed the audit of the Bank's accounts for the half-year ended 30th June last.

We counted and examined the cash on hand as at the close of business on that date and checked the closing accounts of the branches with their respective Ledgers at Head Office, and found them correct.

The Securities held on account of the Reserve Fund stand at par, and those as Investments at considerably under present market prices. The Securities against advances, and those deposited by constituents for safe custody, agree with their Registers.

The Balance Sheet has been thoroughly checked by us with the books and documents relating thereto, and contains a full and fair statement of the Bank's true position at the close of the half-year.

THE employés of Messrs. Thomas Cook and Sons are about to present to Mr. John Cook a service of plate in commemoration of the jubilee of the firm. The design has been choicely wrought by the Goldsmiths and Silversmiths' Company, 112, Regent-street. The service of plate consists of centre and four smaller pieces. The centre represents a Bedouin family resting under two palm trees with an Arab horse in the background; a man and child reclining upon a prayer carpet fill the immediate foreground, whilst above rise a group of palm trees, and, hidden among the leaves are sockets to contain eight candles. The workmanship in the four smaller groups is equally beautiful. Each group represents a continent. A silver tea and coffee service, made by the same firm, will be presented to Mr. Cook.

PARSEE CHIEF MATRIMONIAL COURT.

THE Hon. Mr. Justice Jardine presided at a sitting of the Court yesterday, to hear the suit of Ruttonbai vs. Bapoojee Cowasjee Ghaidy. The petitioner sued for judicial separation on the ground of ill-treatment by her husband. The undermentioned delegates assisted his Lordship in the trial:—Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., Shums-ul-Ulama Dastoor Peshotun Byramjee Sanjana, Messrs. Nassarwanjee Byramjee, J. B. Marsban, Nowrojee Jehangir Gamadia, Nowrojee Manekjee Wadia, K. R. Cama, Framjee Dinshah Petit, Jamsetjee Curseejee Jamsetjee, Perozshah Merwanjee Jejeebhoy, and Dastoor Darashah Rustomjee Sanjana. Mr. Manekshah Jehangirshah appeared for the petitioner; and Mr. Perozshah, of Messrs. Balkrishna and Perozshah, solicitors, appeared for the respondent.

The petitioner was married to the respondent on the 6th August 1887, according to the rites and ceremonies of the Zoroastrian religion at Bombay, and lived with him about four or five months. They did not make a happy life, and there were frequent quarrels between them, owing to the defendant acting under the instructions of his step-mother Sherinbai. In February 1888, respondent told petitioner that he would have nothing to do with her, and asked her to leave the house. She, accordingly, left and went to live with her parents at Kurrachee. After remaining there for three years, she returned to Bombay in November 1890, and commenced proceedings against respondent in the Police Court for maintenance. There he agreed to take her to his house; but as he insisted on the petitioner living with Sherinbai, she went back to her parent's house at Kurrachee. In October 1891, respondent wrote a letter to the petitioner, asking her to come and live with him, whereupon she came to Bombay and went to live with him. After eighteen days, he again told her to leave the house on the pretext that she had not brought the clothes presented to her at the time of the marriage. The petitioner then left his house and commenced proceedings against him in the Police Court for separate maintenance. The respondent appeared in Court and agreed to make proper arrangements for her in his house. She, accordingly, went to live with him again, and did so till the 1st April 1892. In the interval, he treated her with cruelty and did not allow her to take any part in the household work. During the twenty-four hours of the day, he frequently gave her only one meal, and sometimes nothing for a whole day. He abused her and threatened to kill her; and on the 1st April he struck her so violently that she was obliged to leave his house. Her health had suffered considerably in consequence of the ill-treatment she received; and she now considered it unsafe to live with him. Under the circumstances she prayed for judicial separation and such other relief as the Court deemed meet.

The respondent, in his defence, admitted the fact of the marriage, but denied the allegations of cruelty and ill-treatment. He said that Sherinbai was a close relation of his, and had, after the death of his father, adopted and treated him as her son. It was untrue that, in the beginning of February 1888, he told petitioner to leave his house; but on the contrary, she left his house prior to that time on the receipt of a letter from her father. As she did not return, he wrote her a letter to come back to him. As soon as she commenced proceedings in the Police Court, he, through his solicitors, refused to maintain her separately, and expressed his willingness to take her home. The Chief Presidency Magistrate, accordingly, made an order to that effect, and the case was dismissed. Notwithstanding the order, she refused to join him, and wrote a letter demanding the return of several articles. After some time she obtained a summons from the Police Court, charging him with refusing to maintain her. In obedience to the summons, he appeared in Court, when the Chief Presidency Magistrate ordered her to join her husband on his agreeing to erect a partition in his room. The partition was accordingly made, and he invited her to come and live with him. During the time he was ill, she used to pay visits to her relations without his consent, and on several occasions to stay away the whole day. On one occasion when he was ill her relations, Gowasjee Dadabhoy Moolla and Hormusjee Rustomjee, came to his house, created a disturbance, and used abusive language towards him and his adoptive mother. On the 3rd April, the petitioner's mother, accompanied by Dossabhoy Eduljee and Gowasjee Dadabhoy, came to his house, and without his permission, took her away. Respondent said he was ready and willing to maintain his wife and treat her as such. He urged that the suit was vexatiously brought, and should be dismissed with costs.

Evidence in the case was heard during the day, but had not finished when the Court adjourned.

THE "NEW" ALFRED THEATRICAL COMPANY.

AAB-E-IBLISS (or the Elixir of Satan) is the title of an Urdu piece, which the above company will perform to-night, at the Royal (late Hindi) Theatre, Grant Road. This piece is replete with a number of startling incidents as most Oriental dramas are. The foundation of the piece is laid on a fight between Satan and God, that is to say, between the evil and sublime passions in the human breast. Grammarians class passion as only an abstract quality, but in the piece it is personified, Efreet or Satan being the embodiment of all that is evil. We resist the temptation to enter into details through pressure on our space, and would content ourselves by remarking that the play is simply a portraiture of how the evil passions assail and sedulously work themselves into the human mind, how one false step necessitates many more, how a fire of jealousy dissolves even the most powerful bonds of love and friendship, and how a reputation built up by a life-long devotion and self-denial is blasted in a moment by giving way to earnest yearnings. In fine, this is a very good picture wherein the deformities of human nature are correctly and skilfully depicted, and it points to a moral, the clear conception of which might do us a world of good. The piece is very well mounted and ably sustained by a staff of intelligent actors, who find capital opportunities to bring into full play their vocal and jesting powers. The scenery is, no doubt, grand and cleverly managed, the instantaneous disappearance of the gallery at the waving of the magic wand being particularly striking. The garden scene, too, must not be overlooked, which, with its thousand and one lights dazzles the eye, while the one in which his Satanic Majesty is comfortably supping off roasted human bodies is truly awe-inspiring.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 15.

THE price of Bar Silver in London was unaltered yesterday, at 39⅝d. per oz.; but in New York the metal was ⅜ cent. higher, at 87½ cents, with demand Exchange on London unchanged, at 4·88½ cents. Rupee Securities in London were ¼ per Cent lower in Fours, and ⅜ in 4½ per Cents, at £67 5-16 and £67, respectively. Consols remained at 96⅛; but Indian Sterling Loan was ¼ per cent. higher, at 107¼. The Indian Council allotted 2 lakhs of extra Bills on Bombay, and 3 lakhs on Calcutta, at 1s. 3 7-32d. which is an advance of 1-32d. on the rate obtained, for the regular allotments on Wednesday. The Exchange Bank's buying rate on India remained at 1s. 3d. Paris quotations come unaltered. The weekly Specie Shipments consisted of £150,000 on Silver, and £10,000 in Gold to this port.

An increase of five per cent. in the Reserve, making it stand at 45 per cent. of the Liabilities is shown by the weekly Returns of the Bank of England issued yesterday. The Bank rate remained at 2 per cent., and the market rates of discount at ⅜ on short London Bills, and 1½ per cent. on six months' sight Indian Bank Paper.

The Liverpool Cotton Market closed quiet last evening; Surats dull; and Arrivals flat; the day's Sales having aggregated 10,000 bales, including 400 East Indians. Spot prices were unchanged all round; but American Arrivals were 1-32d. higher in the nearer positions, and 1-16d. in the more distant, the extreme quotations being 3 55-64d. for July and July-August deliveries, and 3 63-64d. for November-December. The day's Imports were 4,000 bales. The Manchester Market was quiet but steady.

In New York 7 5-16 cents was still the price of ready Mid.-Uplands; but September Futures were 4 points higher, at 7·20 cents. The Receipts at the U. S. Ports were again 1,000 bales; and the following comparison is now given between this season's figures and those in the two preceding years for the same time.

	1892.	1891.	1890.
Thursday's Receipts	1,000	1,000	400
Five days' do.	12,000	12,000	1,800
Since 1st Sept., 1891	7,009,000	6,878,100	5,743,500

Although exporters have been still quite out of our local Cotton Market, there has been a much better enquiry from the Mills to-day, and 3,550 bales in the aggregate have been taken, consisting of 1,000 Barsee, at Rs. 177-80; 750 Tinnevelly, at Rs. 176-80; 450 Oojein, at Rs. 167½-68; 400 each of Bengals, at Rs. 168; and Nugger, at Rs. 165; 150 each of Karanja, at Rs. 172; and Bhownugger, at Rs. 179; 100 each of Westerns, Rs. 169; Kaddee ginned, at Rs. 180; and 50 Akote, at Rs. 176 per candy. The tone of the market has been steady, but prices are unchanged.

WHEAT and SEEDS have both been taken to a moderate extent for exports in steady markets; but we have no further change to note in any description.

The Receipts of Produce into Bombay yesterday were as follows:—

Cotton	627 bales.
Wheat	6,858 cwts.
Linseed	2,615 "
Rapeseed	3,169 "
Poppyseed	1,723 "
Groundnuts	1,193 "

FREIGHTS are still quiet with very little demand for homeward. The Arroyo (s), now discharging in port, has been fixed at 13s. 3d. per ton if one, or 13s. 9d. if two, ports. Rates in the Rubattino liner, for immediate shipment, have been placed at Rs. 11½ per ton, old scale.

EXCHANGE opened firmer, at 1s. 3 3-16d. for Bank Telegraphic, and 1s. 3 7-32d. for demand; but 1-32d. higher was soon given, and a fair amount of Bank remittance was placed at 1s. 3½d. for demand and also Telegraphic to a moderate extent at the same rate for next week's transfer. We have not, however, heard of anything being done in Merchants' Paper, though 1s. 3⅜d. for three months' sight credits was obtainable in two directions all day. From Calcutta we hear that rates have been firm there; but here the market closed quiet as follows:—

Bank Bills on Demand	1s. 3½d. per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 3 7-32d. "
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 3 9-32d. "
Credits do.	1s. 3⅜ to 13-32d. "
Francs do.	1·62 "

GOVERNMENT PAPER opened firm at some decline from last evening's closing rates, and early business in Fours was done at 106½, and then at 106 13-16; but sellers soon came forward and the rate declined to 106 9-16, the market leaving off at 106 9-16 for cash; 106⅝ for this month's settlement, and 106½ for the August account, with 106½ named for 4½ per Cents.

SHARES.—Beyond an advance in the shares of several Cotton Mill Companies, at our revised quotations, we have no change to report in this market, the tone of which remains very quiet, not to say dull.

The Bombay Gazette

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1892.

THE General Elections are rapidly drawing to a close. On Friday morning five hundred and eighty members had been returned, leaving only ninety to come. The Liberal gains up to then were seventy-one. The Coaservatives and the Unionists have remained stationary for two days, at fifteen and seven respectively. Yesterday the Conservatives gained one more seat in North Dorset. On Thursday's polling the Liberals gained eight seats. One of these is Argyllshire, where Mr. Macfarlane wins back the seat he lost in 1886 by 613 votes to Colonel J. W. Malcolm. In the Ayr Burghs Mr. J. Birkmyre has gained a seat which was also lost to the Liberals in 1886. At Woodbridge, Suffolk, Mr. R. L. Everett recovers the seat he lost to Colonel Anstruther in that year. In Mid-Norfolk Mr. Higgins gets back the seat which his opponent took from him in 1886 by 407 votes. Rossendale, Lord Hartington's old constituency in Lancashire, has been retained by Mr. J. H. Maden, who won the seat when vacated by the former member who went to the House of Lords as Duke of Devonshire. Mr. Maden on that occasion defeated Sir T. Brooks the Unionist candidate by 1,225 votes. Sir T. Brooks has now again opposed Mr. Maden unsuccessfully. The Anti-Parnellite party have received an accession to their ranks in the person of the Hon. G. Blake, who resigned his seat in the Canadian Legislature to stand for Longford, which has returned him. He succeeds Mr. Conolly, a Parnellite. Mr. John Dillon and Mr. T. M. Healy have also been elected. The Anti-Parnellites now number fifty-one, while the Parnellites count but seven. To-day we shall probably learn how Sir Charles Dilke has fared in the Forest of Dean. Amongst other candidates whose fortunes have yet to be told, is Sir William Wedderburn, formerly Civilian Judge in the High Court, who is standing in North Ayrshire, with the Liberal Unionist, Mr. T. Cochrane, for an opponent. Judging by the progress made during the last week by the Liberals, while the Ministerialists have remained almost stationary, there is now a strong probability that the Liberals will return to Parliament with a majority of forty or fifty. Should this prove to be the case, the Ministry will no doubt follow precedent by placing their resignation in the hands of Her Majesty without waiting for Parliament to assemble.

IN his memorandum on the progress of the Madras Presidency during the last forty years, the Inspector-General of Registration, having given a general apercu of the condition of things in past centuries, examines in some detail the condition of the Presidency during the first half of the present century. In that period, British ascendency, having been definitively established the new administration was slowly and tentatively built up. The whole of Southern India had been reduced to ruin and chaos at the close of the last century. The Moguls and the Mahrattas—who had occupied Tanjore—Hyder Ali and Tippoo Saheb, had in turn devastated whole provinces. The Northern Circars, ceded to the British in 1766 were so disorganised that in the fifth report issued by British administrators, it is stated that not only the forms, but even the remembrance of civil authority seemed to be wholly lost. Chingleput had been almost entirely depopulated by the ravages of Hyder Ali's cavalry, which are remembered in the traditions of the inhabitants to the present day. In many parts of the country the only traces of former habitation were the bones of those who had been massacred, and the bare walls of the houses and temples which had been burned. Yet there was something even worse than Hyder's cavalry. The inhuman exactions of the Nawab of Arcot in Tanjore in 1774-75 were so ruinous that people would have preferred Hyder's invasion to the Nawab's occupation. During the contest between the Moguls and the Mahrattas, when the Emperors appointed a governor, or rather a requisitioning officer, the Mahrattas appointed another, and both of them plundered the cultivators until they in self-defence became plunderers in their turn. Even in comparatively settled times the cultivators had to pay sixty, and even eighty per cent. of the produce of their fields to the ruler. So habitual and matter-of-course had this oppressive rate become, that the British Commissioners, on the deposition of Amir Singh, and the installation of a native successor, reported that the ex-ruler in fixing the Government share of produce at only sixty per cent., had made "a profligate remission" of revenue. Throughout the country the zemindars and small chiefs exacted from the ryots all that they had. The Government claim had been fixed by the Emperor Akbar as a measure of reform at one-half the growing crop, but the ryot had to pay far more. The Mahomedan rulers and Hindus as well, where there were no zemindars, employed rapacious agents who extorted fortunes for themselves out of the misery of the population. In 1802, Mr. Wallace, Collector of Trichinopoly, described the method of revenue administration under the Nawab. The whole of the grain produced on wet lands was a strict Government monopoly. If one ryot lent another a small quantity of grain for his own consumption, he was severely fined. The Government sold grain from its own granaries at a large profit—a practice which prevailed in Kashmere until the present year, when its abolition was scheduled in the scheme of reform submitted by Mr. R. Logan to the Maharajah, and sanctioned by his Highness. Had it not been for the advent of the British power doubtless the system would have survived until the present day in the south of India, as in the far north.

That things were as bad as they could be in the south of India at the beginning of the century is not a matter of opinion. Malabar and South Canara, which for a time escaped better than the rest of the country, were nearly ruined by the exactions of Hyder Ali and his pious son. Tippoo Sahib endeavoured to convert the whole population to the religion of Islam. Most of the landholders

MADRAS, JULY 15.

The Madras Mail hopes that Mr. Dadabhai Naoroji will repudiate certain articles of his political creed ; which have resulted in some pessimistic utterances which the Mail criticises.

The Mail says that the result of the elections will be small and practically unworkable. The majority for the Home Rulers in the political situation will therefore be very much like that created by the 1885 elections.

The Mail thinks the same result will follow Mr. Gladstone, who will be still more dependent upon the Irish vote, and it is not at all certain yet that the Irish Nationalists would support him en bloc. In any case the strength of the two parties will be too delicately balanced for an equilibrium to be maintained to any length of time, and the only way out of the difficulty must be another appeal to the country,

The Madras Standard states that Mr. J. C. T. Flynn, Anti-Parnellite member for North Cork is John Dillon O'Flynn, an Eurasian, formerly well known in Madras, who is now a barrister and the editor of the Whitehall Review. I think the Standard is mistaken.

THE GENERAL ELECTIONS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, JULY 15.

A London telegram, dated the 14th instant, says that it is expected Lord Salisbury will remain in office at least until an adverse vote has been passed in the House of Commons, this accords with the old practice.

The Home Rule scheme of Mr. Gladstone's and his recent speeches, moreover, are simply that of years ago.

Lord Salisbury also holds that no component fraction of opposition equals his own followers, and he desires to lay his proposed policy before the Country in the Queen's Speech.

Mr. Gladstone's present majority is over forty. It is expected that when Mr. Gladstone gets into office he will pass the Registration Bill, embodying the one-man-one-vote principle, with the object of increasing the voting power of the masses before the final stages of the Home Rule Bill are reached in order to prepare for another appeal to the electors.

In the Elgin and Nairn election Mr. Seymour Keay polled 2,593 votes, having a majority of 555.

REVIEWS.

ARAKAN, Past—Present—Future : by Mr. John Ogilvy Hay, J.P., (W. Blackwood and Sons) is the title of a volume bringing to notice the state of the province of Arakan, and the capabilities of the Port of Akyab, as an outlet for the trade of Eastern Bengal and Burma. The author who has the welfare of Arakan at heart, has been pegging away for years by writing to the press at home and abroad, by letters to the India Office, to Secretaries, to Governors, to Manchester Merchants, to Viceroys, to Under-Secretaries, to the Secretary of State, to Chambers of Commerce, to large financiers and others, with a view to getting two railway projects launched, and lines constructed, one from Gauhati in Assam to Akyab, and a second from Mandalay to the same port. Assam, which came into our possession at the same time as Arakan is about to have its Assam-Bengal Railway, and Mr. Ogilvy Hay sees no reason why the same advantage should not be given to Arakan. He shows the material advance the country has made in the last sixty years, its population being five times as great now as in 1830, and its revenue being more than quadrupled in the same period. Mr. Ogilvy Hay does not seem to have had more than a polite hearing from his influential correspondents, and he takes this method of interesting the public in the bettering of the prospects of Arakan.

Mr. Frederick H. Hatch, Ph. D., F.G.S., has added to the Library of Popular Science Series, a volume on Mineralogy. The author popularises the technicalities of that Science, and brings a knowledge of it within the reach of the miner, and the many practical men to whom an extended study of mineralogy is impossible. The book is amply illustrated, some of the plates being photographs from specimens in the Museum of Practical Geology. The First Part is devoted to the character of Minerals, the second to their classification and description. At the close Dr. F. H. Hatch gives a list of text-books, which those who wish to continue the study of mineralogy may consult with profit. The small volume is published by Messrs. Whittaker and Co., Paternoster Square.

Mrs. Isa Tweed has written a useful book on "Cow-keeping in India," published by Messrs. Thacker, Spink and Co., Calcutta. The authoress, from the fulness of her experience of the difficulties of keeping cows in India, gives very necessary details as to their management, the advantages to be reaped from their products, and even of the profit to be gained by private keepers of cows in India. Housekeepers who strive to have pure milk and good butter will find this book valuable. Though on this side of India few Europeans attempt to keep more than one or two cows for the use of primarily their children, and then of the rest of the household, yet those who attempt dairy-farming to that extent will be grateful for many hints, and will appreciate Mrs. Tweed's assertion that it is nearly impossible to defeat the tricks of gowlis and to reap the positive advantages undoubtedly derivable from the possession of one's own cows. Most housekeepers in India find the disappointment and vexation attendant on the endeavour to keep their own cows the chief trial of their lives. Mrs. Tweed shows how with a little energy, knowledge and self-assertion, the gowli can be defeated, and the cows turned into an unmitigated blessing instead of a fruitless worry. The book is well worth placing with Wyvern's cookery books, as a valuable help to housekeepers.

"Elton Hazlewood" : by Frederick George Scott, (Whittaker and Co., Paternoster Square) is a story of what, according to the author, has been at work for centuries, the supreme result being Hazlewood, infant, in his nurse's arms. This Hazlewood we follow through life, which for him is of a stormy and disappointing nature. He is left an orphan early, but is educated very much as most other boys in his class are, and he goes to school and to college. He is intended for the Church as his father was a clergyman ; but at college, he changes his mind, and decides to go on the stage, as the next best profession to that of the Church, for which he does not think himself fit. He is a most successful actor, having every qualification, and his rise is rapid enough to satisfy his ambition. Then of course he marries. This phase of his life is not quite a success, and disappointment follows ; he gives up his profession, and after many trials, and much heart-searching, he falls back on the Church, but at the critical moment disappears. Years afterwards he is found to have been drowned on the very day appointed for his ordination, in trying to save the life of his worst enemy. The story is, as one can see from the climax, melancholy, and gives full prominence to the sentimental side of life.

Messrs. Macmillan and Co. have added to their Colonial Library "The Story of Dick," by Major Gambier Parry, a pathetic and pretty story of a small boy who wins friends everywhere. The story is light and interesting. The type in which this edition is printed is clear, and makes very easy reading for those who don't care to follow a slight story through closely printed pages.

"Nicholas Nickleby," our old friend with all the original illustrations by Phiz (Hablot K. Browne) reappears in a new edition, with an introduction by Charles Dickens, the Younger. This is a further instalment of Messrs. Macmillan and Co.'s three and sixpenny series of Dickens' works which will, we hope, make Dickens as popular in India as he is at home.

The second edition of a Gujerati book on medicine, entitled "Sharir and Vaiduk Shastra," by Dr. Tribhowandass Motichand Shah, L.M., Chief Medical Officer of the Junaghad State and the author of "Advice to Mothers," "Rhynoplasty," &c., has just been issued. The present edition is greatly revised and enlarged, and numerous plates have been embodied in it by way of illustration. The book is likely to enhance the reputation which the author has already established by the publication of his previous works. The present volume is divided into several parts, which treat of medicine, surgery, physiology, hygiene, native drugs, &c. Dr. Tribhowandas has dealt with each subject very exhaustively and in a masterly manner. This volume, it is hoped, will prove to be a great boon to the non-English speaking natives. Ten years' labour was involved in the preparation of this very useful work, the first edition of which was published in 1883. It has been of a great assistance to native medical practitioners, who experienced a long-felt want of such a book.

DARAB DASTUR PESHOTAN SANJANA, B.A., has published a lecture on "The Position of Zoroastrian Women in Remote Antiquity," which he delivered in Bombay some time ago. In this lecture many authorities were quoted to show that from the earliest time the Zoroastrians held woman in high esteem, and gave her theoretically, at least, as good a position as man in the social system. Manu could not have thought for a moment that daughters are of less value than boys, for he lays down that one's daughter must be considered as "the highest object of tenderness," and the rules laid down for her training and initiation into the elements of her, parental faith, are carefully enumerated. The woman is called the Lady or Mistress, as the man is entitled the Lord or Master of the House. Manu says : "To be mothers were women created ; and to be fathers, men." Therefore, Dr. Sanjana considers that woman has been held to be the equal of man ; not, as so many suppose, only valued as the mother of possible sons. And yet there is a frequent recurrence to the advantages to be derived here and hereafter by a mother of sons. Zoroaster did not hesitate to wish that King Vishtaspa and his Queen Hutoosa might be the happyparents of no fewer than ten sons—three priests, three warriors, three devoted to agriculture, and one a sage capable of advising them for ever and ever. The gift of sons is as good as a sovereignty or of bliss in Heaven. Whether all this praise of sons is counterbalanced by the rare reference to daughters, is not very clear ; but Dr. Sanjana makes a good case for showing that amongst the Zoroastrians, in the days gone by, woman held her head high, and was expected to live up to a high ideal.

VANITY FAIR.

(FROM OUR LADY CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, JUNE 24.

Tempus fugit, the moralist's monotonous chant has been all the week clanging in our ears like a cracked bell. Time flies—everything flies—money, wit, wisdom, comfort, peace of mind, and commonsense in the hurry and haste to crowd into the last few days of the Session, all the engagements of a season. M.P.s and their wives are specially busy—the he-politician wooing his constituents with honeyed speeches, while the she-politician tries the good old plan of cupboard courtship in the form of dinner invitations, receptions, and garden-parties. All London is papered with the names of coming candidates—all London is canvassing for votes. Vote for one, the people's friend—vote for another, the pioneer of progress,—vote for So-and-so, the working man's hope—vote for Jack Straw & Co., the champions of liberty. Whatever else you neglect—Vote ! Vote ! ! Vote ! ! !

In what is figuratively described as "his mind's eye" the poet must have seen electioneering London when he spoke of flying "far from the madding crowd !" Madding describes the mania of a multitude driving the unmad to desperation. This is what the General Election is doing to those who have not convictions on the subject of votes, or who have convictions that M.P.s are mostly alike —six of one and half a dozen of the other. Happy are those who are already too mad, too young, too old, too imbecile, or too idle to worry their hearts about politics.

Is it imbecility or idleness to be decoyed by the joint invitation of Buffalo Bill and the Secretary of the Horticultural Exhibition into spending an evening in the gardens at Earl's Court ? Some people would say it was worse ! And yet it must be confessed, regardless of taunts of unregeneracy, &c., &c., that it was very pleasant. There was a delightful band, comfortable seats, fresh breezes, and the scent of lilies and roses on the summer air. Then when placid pleasures failed, there was the exhilarating show of the Wild West with its troupes of the rough riders of the world—Cowboys, Mexican Gauchos, American Indians, and Cossacks from the frontiers of Asiatic Russia. Some wonderful feats of horsemanship were performed by the newly-arrived Cossacks, a picturesque band of men, in their national dress of long terra-cotta tunic and fur cap—who on the programme are described as the lineal descendants of Byron's famous Mazeppa. Whether Mazeppa ever practised such daring manœuvres on horseback as to ride his steed head on the saddle and legs in the air, is unrecorded ; but anyhow, the Cossacks at Earl's Court, have clearly settled the question of heredity as regards the wild, break-neck, flash of lightning sort of riding practised by their great progenitor.

The members of the Salon held their usual pleasant meeting at Prince's Hall, Piccadilly, on Tuesday. The mid-June reception is always well-attended ; but the special attraction of the first night of the Portrait Exhibition, besides the hope held out by the committee of management of the coming of four and twenty famous authors, brought so many extra guests, that the four and twenty famous authors ran the risk, like the four and twenty black birds of happy memory, of being baked in a pie, but for the thoughtfulness of the committee in looking in time to the ventilation. There was an interesting programme, including a clever recitation, called "A Sensation Novel," by Mr. Fred. Upton, besides songs by Mr. Chas. Copland, Mrs. Maud Starkweather, and Madame Belle Cole. A charming song, written by James Whitcomb Riley, and set to music by R. B. Addison, was given by Madame Belle Cole. It is called :—

Don't cry—A life lesson.

There ! little girl ; don't cry !
They have broken your doll, I know ;
And your tea-set blue
And your play-house, too,
Are things of the long ago ;
But childish troubles will soon pass by—
There ! little girl ; don't cry !

There ! little girl ; don't cry !
They have broken your slate, I know ;
And the glad wild ways
Of your school-girl days
Are things of the long ago ;
But life and love will soon come by—
There ! little girl ; don't cry !

There ! little girl ; don't cry !
They have broken your heart, I know ;
And the rainbow gleams
Of your youthful dreams
Are things of the long ago ;
But heaven holds all for which you sigh—
There ! little girl ; don't cry.

One of the most picturesque of the garden fetes of the season was the children's floral parade, at the gardens of the Royal Botanic Society of London, Regent's Park, on Wednesday. The idea, taken from the flower festivals at Mentone, has been often carried out at Spa, and the other continental watering places, but it has the charm of novelty in London. The great competition was in flower-decorated mail-carts, for which there were thirty entries.

They made a charming picture, such radiant children, such gay carriages, such dainty Jehus might have taken part in a fairy frolic on Midsummer's eve. At 4-30 the Royal Parade of all the exhibits, headed by the little pipers of the Royal Caledonian Asylum, formed in procession and marched round the grounds, halting before the Royal dais to receive the awards from H. R. H. the Grand Duchess of Mecklenberg-Strelitz. The prize-winner in the competition for the prettiest sedan or other carried chair decorated with flowers, were the four little sons of Mrs. Sperling, in Indian costume, with stained skin to suit the character of Indian palanquin-bearers, the occupant of the chair being a burly baby, whose weight made the little bearers feel that the employment was no sinecure when they had finished the round of the gardens and received their reward. A goat-chaise, decorated with flowers, a tricycle decorated with flowers, and a pony, a donkey, and a dog decorated with flowers, were some of the other competitions among which it was hard to decide the prettiest. Happily for the success of the fête, the weather, which has been extra unreliable lately, was steadily fine so that the new hats and frocks could be exhibited in perfection.

Blouse frocks, made of soft coloured silk, with a white embroidered muslin chemisette and sleeves were worn by many little girls, and seemed to be universally becoming. A straw-coloured silk, with white chemisette and high white sleeves and ribbon shoulder knots, looked very pretty with a large leghorn hat, trimmed with golden oats and white chiffon. Another æsthetic little frock was of heliotrope, trimmed with baby ribbon of several colours, gold, blue, pink, green, in the most delicate shades, threaded in and out in lines at the end of the dress and on the yoke and cuffs. The hat was of white crinoline, trimmed with festoons and rosettes of the same colours, arranged so that the prevailing tint was heliotrope to match the dress. A pretty hat of white crinoline, or transparent tissue, had a kilting of white tulle, edged with the petals of the lilac blossom laid on the leaf, and falling over the top of the crown—a knot of lilac velvet, and a white aigrette giving finish to the arrangement.

Last Friday and Saturday, the 1891 Art Club opened its many doors at the Bolton Studios to visitors from the outside world of Art and of Fashion. The second year of a movement is considered usually the test of its success. After twelve months it is found that excessive enthusiasm has cooled down, sickly sentiment has evaporated,and the real quality of the work appears. The Second Exhibition of the 1891 Club, promoted by women artists for the advantage of each other, was as interesting as the first. There were clever studies by Miss Anna Nordgreen, Miss Gunneline Deane, Miss Bertha Newcome, Miss Ruth Garnett, Miss Young, and others whose names are familiar at the larger picture shows : in fact all the work was full of promise, and there was very little of the niggling pettiness that is supposed to characterize the lady-artist. But, on the other hand, it would have been desirable if an effort had been made to bring some of the pictures nearer to completion before exhibiting them. Miss Anna Griffin's sketch of a girl's head, framed by a Japanese sunshade, was full of vivacity and movement, but entirely wanting in detail and finish. Miss Geraldine Lloyd's picture, "The difficulty of investing Capital"—an interior of a 6d. bazaar—full of gorgeous, glaring dolls and toys, with children's figures in the foreground, told its tale expressively, and was a courageous attempt to carry out a difficult subject. Miss Florence Pash's work also shewed originality, but the technique, though clever and direct, showed a want of appreciation of the delicate differences of colour and of the tenderness of Nature's shadows. There were a number of dog portraits done by Miss Mabel J. Young ; one a specially charming and life-like picture of a rough grey terrier Max, evidently on the watch for his master's signal to give up the irksome duty of a painter's model. Miss Young's sympathy with her canine sitters, is the key to her success in catching their varied expressions, whether painting them alert and wide-awake, on guard, or, oblivious of the world's cares, enjoying an interval of rest.

The long low passage off which the Bolton Studios, a hamlet of æsthetic workshops, open like the cell-doors of a monastery, was transformed during the exhibition into a flowery retreat, with restful lounges from which came an unceasing hum of voices, gossipy, critical and complimentary. It was pleasant to sit there watching the gay crowd passing by brilliant and butterfly-like in summer tissues and fluttering ribbons. Among the visitors, well-known in the world of literature and art, were Mrs. Molesworth, Lady Wentworth, Mr. Phipps Jackson, Lady Napier of Magdala, Mrs. Gramshaw, Lady Gwendoline Little, Lady Southwell, Lady Clifford, Miss Jane Gordon Cumming, Miss Jacomb Hood, Mr. Ludovici, Mrs. Westlake Mr. Fred Browne, Prince Pierre Troubetzkoy Lady Aberdair and her daughter, and Mrs. M. Muir McKenzie.

There is a lady candidate for the honours of occupying the Fauteuil in the Academie Francaise, left vacant by the death of the Sculptor Bonnassiensc. Madame Leon Berteaux, who comes forward to advocate the repeal of the unwritten, but stringent Salic law which governs artistic France, is the President of the Women's Union of Painters and Sculptors ; and if her candidature is successful, she will be the first woman to whom the Academie of the Beaux Arts in Paris has extended its hospitality. But though Dumas' motto "Eliminer le feminin," has represented French æsthetic feeling of late, it has not always guided it. Madame Catherine Duchenium was the first amongst many women elected members of the Academie of Painting, and Madame Vigee le Brun was the last before the suppression of the institution in 1793.

"Tout passe," wrote a melancholy French lady, under the photograph of her early charms, "What would you have ?" "It is impossible to be and to have been," said a young gentleman after having compared the portrait with the original. "I beg your pardon, Sir—it is not impossible to have been an imbecile and to be so still !" After which the young gentleman also showed the truth of the words, "Tout passe," by vanishing from the scene.

THE SANITATION OF BOMBAY.

THE committee appointed by the Corporation to consider the system of sanitary house-connections adopted in Bombay, sat yesterday afternoon, under the presidency of Mr. Javerilal U. Yajnik. Mr. J. W. Smith, acting Executive Engineer, was examined by the Municipal Commissioner, and the members of the Committee at length, and he said that no essential difference had been made in het house-connection system adopted in Bombay from first to last. He had never made any personal examination or investigation to ascertain what effect the house-connection works had upon those districts in which they had been introduced, but he had seen the Medical Officer's reports. People misused the house-connections through ignorance, but he found the trouble greatest when the connections were first put up. Waste food, leaf, plates, ashes, sand, earth, and other materials were thrown into them. The Municipality had issued notices to the public not to throw water into the storm drains, but nothing could be done to prevent people throwing water out of their doors and windows. Even if storm water-drains were constructed under ground the practice would continue. The construction he continued, of house-connections in Bombay could not be so satisfactory as it would be in a European city, owing to the habits of the people. He had found many derangements of the connections, such as pieces of pipings taken away, and holes knocked in the syphons. Asked what he thought of the drainage system of Bombay as a whole, Mr. Smith replied that it was satisfactory. Owing to the fact that people threw water upon the road-ways, the sewers did not receive as much liquid as they would otherwise do. If they did the sewers would not require so much flushing, and the accumulation of silt would, to a large extent, be obviated. If open drains were adapted the people would misuse them just the same, and ground traps would be choked.

THE PRESIDENCY ASSOCIATION AND MR. DADABHOY NAOROJI.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETT."

SIR,—I was very glad to observe that the public meeting, called under the auspices of the Association for the purpose of commemorating Mr. Dadabhoy Naorojee's election to Parliament, has been postponed from the 16th to the 23rd inst. I wish all other bodies throughout India had exercised the same amount of patience in the matter that the Presidency Association has done pending the result of the scrutiny of the ballot demanded by the Conservative candidate for Central Finsbury.

Now, Sir, I am sorry to have to sound a note of alarm in respect of the forthcoming public meeting, and for this reason, it is currently reported in well-informed circles that the leaders of the movement are trying to make a little political capital out of this election by associating it with the so-called National Congress. This will, of course, drive away from the movement all Government servants and most of the Parsees as well as Mahomedans. One High Court Judge has already declined to preside at the meeting. It would be a lamentable thing if the matter is to be worked on the lines indicated, and the promoters might, perhaps, still think the better of it. If it is to rest on the grounds of purely personal respect for Mr. Dadabhoy, every one will gladly join in marking his appreciation of the great liberality shown us by the electors of Central Finsbury ; otherwise the good cause will, of course, be damaged by the absence of many people from the meeting.

In conclusion, I wonder, if the Presidency Association as a body has been consulted on the course that is being attributed to it. I think it is a great pity that not infrequently action is taken in its name without duly ascertaining the feelings of its members, which simply detracts from its good name as well as utility.

Trusting my remarks brief and hurried as they are, will be taken in the same spirit in which they are offered.—I have, &c.,

THE EDULJI FRAMJI ALLBLESS LEPER HOME.

ACCORDING to the report of this institute, since the beginning of this year there has been a gradual increase in the number of inmates. The prevailing affections being bronchitis, inflammation of the glands, malarial fevers, and rheumatism. Owing to the good sanitation of the premises and excellent diet, the inmates are doing remarkably well, and I am glad to say, writes the medical officer in charge, that no deaths have occurred here. The conduct of the establishment has been very satisfactory. I may mention here that a European lady, with her son, a young lad, has been admitted in the above home, and as there are many other Eurasians and Native Christians of respectable classes, it would be very generous and kind on the part of the public were they to forward for their mental and physical exercise books, magazines, quoits, draughts, old clothing, etc., etc., for which they will ever feel grateful.

LITERARY, DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

LOCAL OPINION AND THE SHELLEY CENTENARY.

THE following extraordinary criticism on Shelley appears in Hornchurch Times, a paper published at Hornchurch:—"It may be well to remind intending subscribers that already Shelley is commemorated in Horsham to the extent of two or three roads being called after his name. It may be well to remind them also that, apart from giving a name to roads, Shelley has done little for Horsham, and they are being asked to erect a memorial to prevent, if possible, his doing more. Shelley was a wicked genius, and to glorify the memory of a man who chose to grovel in filth when he might have soared to heaven. The author of works reeking with abominable sedition and blasphemy is one of those who so aspire to fame that they must needs dig for it in the mire of vice. Why not erect a monument to themselves, it would be far less objectionable than to glorify the memory of a man who, with a wife and family to support, left them to starve, while he gallivanted with Mary Godwin, and burn Shelley's poem in the fire of his own genius."

A LONG STRUGGLING ISM.

Unitarians have only themselves to thank for having to wait so long for the Shelley Memorial. Shelley is a representative figure in the history of their non-quite respectable though long-struggling "ism." Mr. Stephen has a good deal to say about the poet's religious views, and died sixteen or seventeen years ago, was a daughter of Dr. Lant Carpenter, a well-known Unitarian minister in Bristol. Dr. Carpenter—upon whom sixty writers have left their impress—was a man of considerable mark in his day. Johnson, Pope, and Swift in the "English Men of Letters" series, and Mr. Leslie Stephen's "Life of Sir James Fitzjames Stephen," are all worthy of the Marquis and his satellites, headed it back to the end with the Duke of Wellington and the Duke of Marlborough.

PAPAL WIT.

Dismell, in his "Curiosities of Literature," gives what he considered a unique specimen of merchant wit in the case of a Venetian who, having a dispute with the Pope, was excommunicated. "At a dinner in Brussels, where Monsignor Nuncio was Nuncio, a certain Master Jacques Bruyn, a merchant of Venice, who was present, 'If of a snuff-box, a nude and indecent figure of Venus was drawn out, which excited the loud laughter of the company. Monsignor Nuncio, with a severe countenance, said, 'Master Jacques, you have been excommunicated.' 'Ah, Monsignor,' replied he, 'I am not the first who has been excommunicated for the sake of a woman.'"

M. ZOLA'S NEW BOOK.

Telegraphing from Paris recently, the correspondent of the Daily News said:—"M. Zola's new book 'La Débacle,' has been published by Charpentier and will be eagerly read. This time the romance is a mere thread on which to string a series of pictures of the war. The author has made no research into the causes of the war, and all the writer's realistic power is displayed. Among digressions and coarse expressions have been found some fine descriptions of the battle and the immensity of the disaster seems in keeping with the theme, and stir which had characterised the Commune, which heightened its horrors. M. Zola has desired to show how these disasters brought out the worst and best qualities of the French people. Some of the episodes are touching, and the whole book seemed imminent. His object is to warn his countrymen against a recurrence of mistakes which he considers brought about the war. He does not include what he calls the Rougon Macquart series. There is, perhaps, a little pretentiousness in making Dr. Pascal, the author of the Rougon Macquart family, but this is excusable when a writer desires to terminate a series of novels which he has pursued for twenty years. Dr. Pascal, who is made to die of a snuff-box, a nude and indecent figure of Venus was drawn out, which excited the loud laughter by the unashamed daughter of the Marquis and his satellites, headed it back to the end with the Duke of Wellington and the Duke of Marlborough.

THE FUTURE OF SILVER.

It requires no apology if, under present conditions, we return to the question of the future of Silver, which, though evidently written with reference to Europe, and more especially Austria, is decidedly of international interest.

Silver is a monometallic, and a firm believer in the future of bimetallism as the only means of fully appreciating the advantages of bimetallism as a monometallic group against being drawn into the gold group. Those other States which do not belong to one or the other group will be left to themselves, and the United States have spoken, and have chosen them to do all in their power to obtain an international agreement. Should this fail, they should America, in the absence of such agreement, would prepare for gold, the contest for the yellow metal which might be taken to heart by some of the members of the Indian Currency Association, who commercially weaker States in Europe, and those inclined to other solutions, must, in the first instance, be left to themselves. It is not likely that, with its great supply, America would be willing to go it alone, and carry the burden of the whole world. In a few years the Philippines will be in the world. In a few years the Philippines will be in the world. In a few years the Philippines will be in the
